UNCENSORED FILM CHARGE.

"Naughty" Picture in Wanchai.

A MISAPPREHENSION.

The Hong Kong Amusements Ltd., were defendants in two cases brought before Mr. R. E. Lindsell at Central Magistracy this morning. The summonses were brought at the instance of Mr. T. H. King, Deputy Inspector-General of Police, and both were in connection with the Grand Theatre, Wanchai.

The first charge was one of obstruction, Mr. King in evidence stating that upon the occasion of a visit to the theatre at 10.50 p.m., he discovered people standing in the gangways, and also grouped around the interpreter's platform.

A Novel Plea!
Replies to Mr. H. J. Armstrong, for the defence, Mr. King said that there was no overcrowding in the theatre. There was in fact plenty of seating accommodation for everyone. He actually sent for the manager, who put the people in their seats upon his (witness') instructions.

Mr. Armstrong went on to raise various points in connection with the Ordinances, advancing the somewhat unusual plea that in case of fire, in which connection he presumed the prosecution had been brought, the people in the gangway had a much better chance of getting out!

His Worship agreed, but pointed out that they gave the seated persons rather a worse chance of getting out!

Mr. Armstrong based his plea on the grounds that standing in the gangways did not stand in law constitute an obstruction. His Worship, however, ruled that the prosecution had proved their point, and imposed a fine of $10. Uncensored Film?

In the second case, the Amusement Company were charged with showing an uncensored film at the same theatre on the night of October 23. The film in question was called "The Legendary Vixen," a Chinese film in nine parts.

Mr. King in evidence, said that he visited the theatre at 11.50 on the night in question, and his attention was at once attracted by certain objectionable episodes in the ninth part, which, in his opinion could not have been passed by a censor. He sent for the manager, who produced the censorship card, duly signed by the censor (on this occasion Mr. Lockhart-Smith). The card bore the remark, "Part or reel nine to be deleted."

Film Impounded.

The next morning the Police took possession of reel nine, and it was again shown in the Queen's Theatre studio, in the presence of himself, Mr. Lockhart-Smith, with whom he had communicated on the matter, the secretary of the Amusements Company, and Mr. Noronha, (who, it was explained, was the advertising manager). Mr. Noronha had been present at a showing of the film before the card was signed.

At the showing in the Queen's Theatre, Mr. King indicated parts in the reel which he considered objectionable, presumably indecent.

Evidence of the Censor.
Mr. Lockhart-Smith, in evidence, said that the censorship card, with the proviso for cutting, had been signed by him on August 16. He had seen the film in its entirety a day or two previously, and when he came to certain incidents in part nine, he indicated definitely that he was not prepared to pass it. There was a scene he objected to which was the basis of this decision. Mr. Noronha was not present at the time, and he had no communication with him.

The following morning Mr. Noronha came to see him, and said that he had made a definite arrangement with him, that if he signed the card, he would be sufficient.

His Worship said that in view of the admission that Mr. Lockhart-Smith had signed the card, he had no objection to the film being exhibited.

Mr. Noronha, however, said that he had signed the card, and that he had no objection to the film being exhibited.

EDITORS FORCED TO DRINK CASTOR OIL.

Drivers of Foreign Cars Ought to Be Thrashed.

THE NEW "PRUSSIANISM."

Berlin, Yesterday.
Non-Fascists in Germany will have a thin time if the National Socialists come into power. Speaking at a National Socialist meeting to-day, Dr. Goebbels, the Reichstag leader of Berlin National Socialists, said that when he was Minister of the Interior and was attacked in the newspaper, his "storm troops" would go to the newspaper office and make each Editor drink a quart of castor oil. He used to take care that the Police would arrive half an hour later.

He declared that the National Socialists one day would "shake up" the routine of the Reichstag so that the Opposition would not reappear there. He also declared that the terror of the Communists could only be broken if half a dozen of them were strung up, and every driver of a foreign motor car in Germany ought to be thrashed and the cars destroyed. —Reuter.

tion to the specific instructions, he gave general instructions as regards a complete scene. The scene showed a Chinese girl in the hands of robbers. "There were various bloodcurdling suggestions made that I objected to," added witness, "but one incident that I remember in particular, showing the robbers leering at the girl, and one of them making approaches to her, remains the most definite impression."

A Misunderstanding?
Witness went on to say that he quite thought that Mr. Noronha understood his instructions. He accordingly signed the censorship card. He did not see the film again until it was shown before Mr. King and himself on October 24. "I wish I had," he added, feelingly. Mr. Armstrong: How long did you act as censor?—I should think about two and a half months.

Have you any definite instructions as a censor?—That is a matter of policy upon which I can hardly be asked to give evidence. As a matter of fact there are definite instructions. That is all I can say.

"Close-Up" Cut Out.
Mr. Armstrong proceeded to cross-examine witness as to the specific and general instructions given. It was elicited that the particular incident that witness recalled, as regards the making of approaches to the woman, occurred twice. One was a "close-up," and the same scene was re-enacted later, but at a further distance. The "close-up" which in particular had caused objection, had definitely remained, and in witness' opinion was still of an objectionable nature. "As a matter of fact, I objected to the whole scene," said witness. "And I thought I had made it quite clear that it was to be cut out. I indicated where the film should be cut, and where recommended, and I thought Mr. Noronha understood me."

Mr. Armstrong: Do you think that there was any possibility of misapprehension?—There may have been, of course. But I really cannot see how my remarks could have been misunderstood.

You do not suggest that the omission of the cutting was deliberate?—I can hardly go so far as to say that.

Thought It Was O.K.
Questioned as to whether he had other opportunities to see the movie, witness said he had none, and that the incident would be sufficient.

His Worship said that in view of the admission that Mr. Lockhart-Smith had signed the card, he had no objection to the film being exhibited.

Mr. Noronha, however, said that he had signed the card, and that he had no objection to the film being exhibited.

RIGOROUS REFORMS BY NEW PRESIDENT.

A Moral Restoration of Civil Life.

RETRENCHMENT PLANS.

Rio de Janeiro, Yesterday.
Dr. Getulio Vargas assumed the Presidency of Brazil to-day in the presence of members of the Junta, all leaders of the revolution, and the chief State officials. Dr. Vargas explained the Governmental programme as involving first, a general amnesty; second, a moral restoration of civil life; third, the intensive diffusion of education, particularly technical and professional; fourth, the establishment of a consultative council composed of leading personalities; fifth, the appointment of a commission of inquiry to examine the administration of former Governments; sixth, the reorganisation of the Army and Navy in accordance with national needs; seventh, a revision of the system of taxation; eighth, the intensification of cultivation; ninth, the maintenance of rigorous economy; tenth, the organisation of a general plan of railway and road construction, and eleventh, a drastic reduction in the number of public officials. —Reuter's American Service.

The chief interest lies in the effect the election may have on the Presidential election in 1932, for during the past half century, when the party in power lost congressional elections in the middle of the President's term, it also lost the next presidential election. —Reuter's American Service.

HEAVY FIGHTING ON THE WEST RIVER.

Daylight Raids Made by Bandits.

VILLAGES TERRORISED.

[From Our Own Correspondent.]
Kwai P'eng, Tai Hui, Yesterday.
News has just reached here that the Kwangtung military forces are retreating down the West River from Nanning, and that the Military Headquarters have been moved to Kwai Uen down the river to Kwai P'eng. The Chinese are expecting heavy fighting along the West river, as the Kwangtung forces do not seem able to withstand the counter drive of the Kwangsi army.

While the soldiers are at war the bandits are getting more bold, and are now making raids on the helpless villages in broad daylight. Last week they captured seven people near here and took them to the mountains. At Paak Sha they captured one of the wealthy merchants and are now holding him for ransom. There is much uneasiness among the people since the bandits sank one of the passenger boats between Kong Hau and Wuchow and thirty people lost their lives.

EXPORT OF OPIUM.

SOLE RIGHTS GRANTED TO PERSIAN MERCHANT.

6,500 CASES A YEAR.

Tokatian, Yesterday.

The Persian Government has granted Hajji Mirza Habibulla Hanin sole rights for the export of opium for five years. The concessionaire guarantees the export of 6,000 cases annually from this port. The tax is increased to £8 per case for the first two years, £10 for the third and fourth years, and £17 for the last year of the concession. It is believed that the concessionaire is forming a company of leading Persian opium merchants with a capital of £200,000. —Reuter.

THREE PREMIERS AWARDED FREEDOM OF CITY OF LONDON.

HISTORIC CEREMONY.

London, Yesterday.
The freedom of the City of London was granted to three former premiers of Great Britain, Mr. Baldwin, Mr. Chamberlain, and Mr. Churchill, at a historic ceremony in the Guildhall. Mr. Baldwin complained of an incident in 1926 when he was in India, when he was threatened with a spear by a native. Mr. Churchill, however, was not present at the ceremony.

LIBERALS 'AGIN' TORY AMENDMENT.

Lloyd George Says It Is "Protectionist."

WAIT AND SEE."

London, Yesterday.
In the House of Commons to-day, on the resumption of the debate on the Conservative amendment, there was an address by Mr. Lloyd George, who, after criticising the Government's action in regard to unemployment, said that he would not support the amendment because it was "protectionist." Also, he was bound to wait and see the result of the election. —Reuter's American Service.

WHY NOT EXTEND THE USE OF RUBBER?

Suggestion by a Former Broker of Singapore.

GOVERNMENT REPLY.

Mrs. VICTOR BRUCE.

British Airwoman is Reported Safe.

The China Mail was informed this morning by an official of the Asiatic Petroleum Company, in Hong Kong, that they had received a telegram from their agent in Haiphong, at midnight, stating that the Hon. Mrs. Victor Bruce, the British airwoman who was expected in the Colony yesterday on her flight to Japan, was reported to have landed half-way between Bangkok and Hanoi, French Indo-China. It is believed that she was forced to make a landing owing to the state of the weather, and that she will resume her flight as soon as conditions improve.

Mr. W. Lunn, replying, referred to the fourteenth report of the Imperial Economic Committee, which recently surveyed the trade of rubber manufacturers, and added "active measures are in the competent hands of various unofficial bodies, one of which is the Rubber Manufacturers' Research Association, in the receipt of a Government grant." —Reuter.

Sir George Penny was formerly a broker in Singapore.

TARIFF TRUCE.

CONFERENCE TO ASK FOR REDUCTIONS.

EUROPEAN CONVENTION.

Rugby, Yesterday.
Questioned regarding the operation of the tariff truce the President of the Board of Trade, Mr. W. Graham, informed the House of Commons that the commercial convention concluded in Geneva last March had so far been ratified by eight countries.

United Kingdom, Belgium, Denmark, Finland, Latvia, Norway, Sweden, and Switzerland. A meeting, had been arranged for November 17 to consider the bringing into force of the convention, and in this meeting replies to recent questionnaires would be considered with a view to framing a programme for a further Conference at which the possibility of securing a reduction in tariffs would be examined. —British Wireless Service.

London, Later.

The House of Commons address was adopted at the conclusion of the debate on the Conservative amendment, addressed to Mr. Baldwin, who reiterated that he declined to participate in a three-party conference on unemployment because the subject of unemployment had been fully discussed in the House of Commons.

Mr. Baldwin said that in view of the amendment, the Government would bring all out-of-work agreements into mutual agreement with the employers. When the Government had agreed to such an arrangement, the Minister of Labour would issue a circular letter to all employers, asking them to accept the new arrangements without delay. —British Wireless Service.

NEGRO SHOT DEAD IN U.S. ELECTIONS.

OFFICIAL KIDNAPPED.

New York, Yesterday.
The country polled to-day in an election full of baffling uncertainties, though the Democratic swing of the pendulum is considered likely, even by Republican diehards. The weather is fine and apathy is reported in many districts. The proceedings generally have been orderly, though a negro was shot dead outside a booth at Danville, Kentucky, and an election official was kidnapped at Buckner, Missouri.

The chief interest lies in the effect the election may have on the Presidential election in 1932, for during the past half century, when the party in power lost congressional elections in the middle of the President's term, it also lost the next presidential election. —Reuter's American Service.

IMPERIAL AIR ROUTES.

Rugby, Yesterday.

The heads of the delegations to the Imperial Conference made further progress to-day with a final consideration of constitutional aspects of inter-Imperial relations and also approved the reports of various committees, including those on the Singapore Naval base, on war graves, and on arbitration and disarmament. In regard to the last-mentioned, the delegates were generally in favour of improving the machinery for a peaceful settlement of all forms of international disputes. The principle underlying the general act is approved with reservations applying to disputes prior to the accession of that instrument to disputes in which the parties have agreed on other methods of peaceful settlement, and to disputes between members of the British Commonwealth of nations.

After his surrender to the Central Government, Sun Li-en-chung the ex-Kuominchun General, has been entrusted with the task of enlisting the Kuominchun remnants on the North Bank of the Yellow River. As soon as he completes his mission, his troops will be transferred to the Shantung territory.

PACIFIC METHODS.

The Nationalist pursuing forces who have crossed to the North Bank of the Yellow River are now concentrated at Hsin-cheng and Kangcheun, awaiting further instructions since the pacification commissioners Chang Chi-kang and Li Ming-chung are of the opinion to reorganise the Kuominchun by political means for the time being and not by force.

Immediately upon the return of Shih Yu-san from Mukden, the next step will be taken to deal with the Shansi troops.

Coming to Hong Kong?

Members of the enlarged session, including Chou, Lu, Hsieh Chih, Wang Ching-wei and Cheng Kung-po will leave Taiyuan for either Hong Kong or Japan in a day or two.

According to General Yu Hsueh-chung, garrison commander of Tientsin and Peking, Wang Ching-wei and Lu Chung-kuo are reported to have arrived at Tientsin. The Mukden troops who have approached as far as Shantung on the Ping-Han line, and Tsalkao-pao on the Peking-Suiyuan line are now pending orders from the high military command for a further advance.

SHENSI REHABILITATION.

General Yang Fu-cheng will formally assume the post of chairman of Shensi Provincial Government on November 5, suggesting to adopt the following plans in the rehabilitation of Shensi:

To discriminate in the administration between civil and military authorities; to disband and reorganise all the "grey" troops; to relieve famine-stricken areas; to burn all opium; to reorganise the Kuominchun into garrisoning troops; to establish producing factories; and to improve party affairs. The above plans were carried by Colonel Hu Yat-man on a plane to Nanking on November 2 for the consideration and approval of President Chiang.

Canton News Agency.

YEN TO RETIRE.

Peking, Yesterday.
It is reliably reported that Yen Hsien-shan has decided to retire to his native town, Wu-tai-hien, and hand over military affairs in Shensi to Hsu Yung-chang and political affairs to Shang Chen.

Reuter.

CHANG AND CHIANG.

Peking, Yesterday.
It is anticipated that Marshal Chang Hsueh-ling will shortly come to Peking to establish headquarters in the former Cabinet office, and await here the arrival of Marshal Chiang Kai-shek, when the Fourth Plenary Session of the Kuominchun have ended.

Chinese circles are of opinion that the venue of the meeting of the leaders will be Peking, and not Tientsin, or Tsinhai. It seems definite that Chang Hsueh-ling will not attend the Fourth Plenary Session as had been suggested recently.

Chinese reports state that Feng Yu-hsiang has returned to Taiyuan, where he is preparing a circular telegram announcing his retirement from public life.

EMPIRE'S DEBT.

THE PIONEERS OF EARLY TIMES.

DAILY NECESSITIES.

that under favourable cultivation the wild strawberry can be brought to produce berries nearly as large as raspberries.

Gerard, in his "Herbal" (1657), mentions several varieties of strawberries, differentiating them from the wild strawberry, and "The Garden of Health" by William Langham, published in the same year, makes it clear that at that time the strawberry was already cultivated in England, though it is probable that this strawberry was not derived from the wild stock, but that the parent stock reached this country from the east.

Vegetables.

Our vegetables, too, have in many instances an exotic origin. Artichokes, from Asia, made their first appearance in our vegetable gardens about the middle of the sixteenth century. The Jerusalem artichoke came from Brazil. Most of our root and green vegetables are found wild in Britain, but all the same many of those in use in our kitchens are derived from stocks brought from the East. The Romans were great cultivators of asparagus.

Calico was first imported by the East India Company, A.D. 1621, although its manufacture and use began in China, is one among products which Europe generally, and Britain individually, owe to the culture of the Romans. Obviously, it may be said of gold, that its quest and discovery have been the origin, at one remove, of done more than almost anything to our acquisition of India, is a pictureque fact often overlooked. largely the allure of alluvial gold. Sugar, now relatively one of our and no doubt of oysters and pearls, cheapest foodstuffs, was entirely which enticed the Romans to unknown to us during the Middle Ages. Previously honey was the covery of America, the gold supply also a saccharine substance available. The potato, now the standby obtained mainly from Asia, and as a food-staple of millions of Europeans, was unknown, until from Europe, was becoming decided Hawkins brought it from the new eddy inadequate for currency and World; while we are also indebted to America for tobacco, the solace South America furnished immediately of the bulk of mankind, and to-day, of considerable of that of womankind too. To these, and later California, Australia and scores of boons resulting from the South Africa took up the running voyages of Columbus and his followers may be added. The phar-macopoeia has, for instance, been ham, who brought rubber seeds to enriched by countless herbs, some Great Britain from Brazil little more than half a century ago, in of outstanding value, which have their habitat in South America. And when we recall these things, we cannot doubt that Henry Wickliffe, we owe its introduction to the Dutch East India Company. A Cretan, Nathaniel Conopus, who appears to have been of Balliol College, Oxford, brought coffee to England in the time of Charles I. Coca, a much later introduction, had an American provenance. Copra, one among other highly useful products of the coconut, coconut oil being the basis of soap, came in the first instance from the Indian coast and its neighbouring islands. Christmas would not be Christmas without the turkey. The bird was not domesticated in England until 1525; North America was its home. The piece de resistance of Mansion House banquets—turkey soup—would have been an unknown delight had not the West Indies been discovered: the green turtle was imported from those islands.

Fruits:
As for fruits, many of those now regarded as natives of Britain were of peregrine origin: the apple is the oldest of them. The serious cultivation of the apple tree in England dates from 1540 when the first Kentish orchards were planted. The apple tree was, however, brought into Italy from Syria and Africa some little time earlier than the Christian era. Italy was, in many instances, the first European country to introduce and cultivate many of the fruits which ultimately found their way to England. The apple, as a crop, is mentioned in Saxon deeds; we may therefore assume the existence of a Romano-British cultivation of the fruit. The cherry tree was brought from Pontus to Rome by Lucullus, A.D. 70. The apricot halfs from Ephesus, the peach from Persia, the higher class plums from Damascos or Armenia, pears and figs from Greece and Egypt. Most of these took some centuries in journeying to our shores, from Southern Europe, where they had made themselves at home. The wild strawberry of England and the continent is not the parent of the various strawberries cultivated for many generations in this country. They came from North America, Chile, the Himalayas and elsewhere. A recent writer, referring to Shakespeare's well-known lines, "The strawberry grown beneath the nettle," etc. (Henry VI, Part II), asks if there were the Elizabethans content with the tiny native berry, or whether already, in the 15th century, a superior fruit, which in cultivation from which some of the present varieties were derived, had come into general use. The consumption of strawberries increased from Henry VIII onwards. The drawberry beneath the nettle seems to point to the wild variety. I have, from previous experiment,

DAYLIGHT SAVING

Amongst the hardy annuals without which no Winter would be complete there is the question of daylight saving. "Early to bed and early to rise" ought to go hand in hand in our Winter with "Early to office and early to sport." It is essential to the retention of physical fitness in this climate that the fullest facilities be given for sport not alone during the week-end, but on days other than Saturday and Sunday. Only a comparative handful can leave their offices early enough to commence a game at 5 o'clock, and with the sun setting before six o'clock, a later start is out of the question. Sportmen have nevertheless to "play the game" by their employers, not all of whom can afford to release them as early as, say half past four to take part in a football match or a practice at the cricket now. Obviously the only solution to the problem is daylight saving putting back the clock for an hour during the Winter months.

It is not only sport that is affected by the lack of a common daylight saving system. There are social duties to be performed by everyone. From His Excellency the Governor down-ward, but many of these latter will be spared if timed for an hour that inevitably interferes with the social routine. The forthcoming marriage is anounced of Aubrey Taylor Key, of Messrs. Smith Bell & Co., Marlin,

to Dorothy Florence Jeffs, of Midbank, Edington Avenue,
Prestwich. The wedding will take place in Hong Kong.

This afternoon at 4.30 the Committee of the Hong Kong Club will be "at home" to members and their wives and daughters on the occasion of the formal opening of the Ladies' Section of the Club by Mrs. W. A. Hannibal, wife of the Chairman.

"POPPY DAY."

PLANS FOR ANNUAL DRIVE.

BIG FOOTBALL MATCH.

Preparations for the annual Poppy Day drive are now well in hand and, as in the past, the ladies of the Colony have come forward willingly to assist by selling poppies in the street on Armistice Day. This is the main source of income and it is hoped that people will buy their poppies early and pay for them generously.

The Football Association have arranged for a football match to be played on the Football Club ground when the services will meet the Rest of the Colony at 4 p.m. H.E. the Governor has kindly consented to kick off, and the entire proceeds will be devoted to the fund.

It is, of course, unnecessary to set forth the objects of Earl Haig's Fund for ex-Service men and women as it has now practically become a national institution, but it may be as well to remind those who are inclined to think that with the passing of years the need of their support is less imperative that such is not the case. In fact, in many instances even more help is required. Many partially disabled men have found their infirmities growing worse and widows left with young children find calls on them for clothing and education ever increasing.

TRAFFIC INCIDENT

INDIAN CONSTABLE'S ABUSIVE LANGUAGE

COSTS HIM $25.

Yesterday afternoon Mr. H. R. Butters heard a case in the Kowloon Magistracy in which Mr. F. M. de Britto, of 12, Tung Hing Street, summoned Indian Police Constable Hasham Khan for assault and using abusive language. The constable cross-summoned Mr. Britto for disobeying a traffic signal.

The case for Mr. Britto, as presented by Mr. F. C. E. Rendall, was that at about 8 p.m. on October 9 he was driving to Kowloon Tong when at the junction of Prince Edward and Nathan Roads; he turned to the right to go into Prince Edward Road. He sounded his horn and on seeing the green light he drove on. As he passed the beacon the defendant called out to Mr. Britto and, using an offensive expression, asked him if he was blind.

When Mr. Britto got out of his car to take defendant's number, the latter caught him by the arm and, drawing his truncheon, threatened to strike him. Mr. Britto reported the affair at the Mongkok Police Station.

Defendant denied abusing Mr. Britto and claimed that he had given the right of way to a bus coming out of Prince Edward Road but, in spite of this, Mr. Britto turned in. He (defendant) shouted to him to stop, telling him that he was on the wrong side of the road. Mr. Britto told him to shut up, abused him and then took his number.

His Worship held that the constable did use abusive language to Mr. Britto and fined him $25. The cross-summons was dismissed.

News in Brief

The ss. Rawalpindi will arrive tomorrow at 4 p.m. and not at 8 a.m. as previously announced.

The total output of the Kailan Mining Administration's mines for the week ended October 18 amounted to 116,501 tons, and the cost $107,234.

To-day at 5 p.m. after a dedicatory service, the Conchiflute Foundation stone of St. Paul's Cathedral, Bishop William G. B. E. M. V. P. Parenteau, Bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Hong Kong, will be laid by the Hon. Sir William G. B. E. M. V. P. Parenteau, Bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Hong Kong.

A very interesting feature of Farwell's Sale from the Spice Islands was the appearance of a large number of dried fish.

It is not only sport that is affected by the lack of a common daylight saving system.

There are social duties to be performed by everyone. From His Excellency the Governor down-ward, but many of these latter will be spared if timed for an hour that inevitably interferes with the social routine. The forthcoming marriage is anounced of Aubrey Taylor Key, of Messrs. Smith Bell & Co., Marlin,

to Dorothy Florence Jeffs, of Midbank, Edington Avenue,
Prestwich. The wedding will take place in Hong Kong.

GENERAL AKIYAMA

DEATH OF WELL-KNOWN JAPANESE SOLDIER

FOUGHT IN MANY WARS.

Tokyo, Yesterday. General Yoshituru Akiyama, who distinguished himself as a Cavalry Commander in the Russo-Japanese War, died last night following an operation for the amputation of his right leg.

(General Akiyama was born in Ehime-ken in 1855, and entered the Army in 1879, taking part in the Boxer Rising. He was promoted to be a full General in 1916 and in 1917 was appointed a Member of the War Council. He was Director of Military Education from 1920-23.)

MOST KISSABLE GIRL IN HOLLYWOOD.

Lewis Baumer Mouth & Carerra Handshake.

DOROTHY MACAILL.

She did not say, "Oh, this is too utterly wonderful"; she did not step from the compartment, all mink and mire, or grasp your hand with sweet insincerity and murmur, "It's sure too lovely to have you know me!"

And she did not bury her dainty nose into the heart of a bouquet of publicity carnations and whisper, "Ah, roses . . . roses!"

Miss Dorothy MacKall, as a matter of fact, is the most refreshingly different film star who ever arrived at Victoria.

This daughter of a Hull publican, who has taken filmland by storm, was wearing simple white blouse and tweed skirt and a little tweed coat. She was very lightly "made-up." They call her "Hollywood's most kissable girl." She has china blue eyes, "Lewis Baumer" mouth, a Carerra handshake, and the most delightful twang of Yorkshire accent. Her "glare" is a gliss.

"Ask Me Questions."

A Daily Express representative met her at her hotel.

"Sit down," she said cheerfully. "Wain't that a silly mix-up at the station-waiter, two martinis now ask me questions."

That was all wrong. They usually begin: "I have always loved reporters—their life is so thrilling!"

At first the reporter tried the usual method.

"Miss MacKall, what do you think of the British?"

"Policeman," she said shortly, "wonderful! That's the right answer isn't it? But why interview me with an 'I'; Why not just chat?"

"Why not!"—enthusiastically.

"Do you know," she laughed, "I saw Albert de Courville on the platform in Paris. I haven't seen him since he gave me my first job at £3 a week!"

"And now they say you make £800!"

"See you!" said Miss MacKall. "Where do you live at Hollywood?"

"No," she said smiling, "wrong again. I do not live in a marble palace, with my own pet polo ground and folding golf course. I live in a nice rented house and I live in it all the year round."

"I play tennis with Clive Brook and Ronald Colman, and swim like a fish. I like riding, but I can't stay on anything but a clothed horse—and if that isn't a paragraph, come again!"

"Do you know 'The Mystery Woman?'" the Daily Express representative asked correctly.

"Carbo is one of the best pals I have," said this amazing film star, "and all the talk about mystery is a lot of rot. She is just a fine woman who likes living quietly, and I regard her as the greatest actress on the screen. Carbo's a good scout!"

Great Carbo—A Scout Attitude.

"I'm looking forward to visiting Hull," she said. "It is ten years since I was there, and it's nice to go back a success. Look at the reception Amy Johnson got!"

"It is true you walked clean into Ziegfeld's office and got a job straight away!" she laughed. "Bung on, first try!"

"They say you are Hollywood's most kissable girl," the reporter said timorously.

"They would!" said Miss MacKall.

She said her present contract is up and there is small chance of her making pictures there.

The interviewer tried one last additional effort.

"What do you feel about your art?" he asked meekly.

"It's bearing all right," said Miss MacKall.

Miss MacKall—congratulations!

IN PALESTINE.

HOSTILE ATTITUDE OF ARABS.

Jaffa, Yesterday. As a result of reports from London that the British Government proposes to explain its recent statement of policy in Palestine, it is believed that the majority of Arabs in the country are inclined to regard the proposed changes as a threat to their interests.

A British speedway team, which had been invited to compete in the International competition at the Olympic Games, was refused entry to the country.

WHERE THE MONEY GOES.

Another Quarter of a Million Wanted.

LORRY CRASH SEQUEL.

Votes totalling over a quarter of a million dollars will come for approval before the Finance Committee at its meeting to-morrow, including one of $105,000 in connection with the Kowloon Tong Building scheme. The votes are:

Prisons Department, Personal Encumbrances $302.

An operator is required for the linotype machine which has arrived sooner than expected and is now being erected. An operator at a salary of $80 a month has been allowed for in 1931 Estimates. There is much outstanding printing work on hand. The use of the linotype will greatly reduce it and enable work to be undertaken which will otherwise have to be placed with outside printers. The operator will be required as from 16.10.30. The amount required is $202.

Slaughter House Light.

Sanitary Department: 32, A.D. and S.H. Light $250.

There has been more light consumed in the beef cooling room at Kennedy Town Slaughter House than was anticipated. Formerly this room was closed at 11 p.m., after all the beef had been conveyed to market; but since January this year it has had to be used for the hanging of pork carcasses and is open to 3 a.m. It is anticipated that the sum now asked for will prove sufficient for the remainder of this year. The above is to be met from savings under motor lorries, vans and cars running expenses.

More Buffaloes Shot.

Sanitary Department, Incidental Expenses $300.

The deficiency in this vote is due to an unforeseen increase in the number of buffaloes to be shot. It is anticipated that an additional sum of $300 will prove sufficient for the remainder of this year. The above is to be met from savings under motor lorries, vans and cars running expenses.

Motor Meat Vans.

Sanitary Department: Motor Meat Vans Running Expenses $3,000.

Provision was made under the wrong sub-head from which a transfer is now sought. The above is to be met from savings under Motor Lorries, Vans and Cars Running Expenses.

Bonus For Coolies.

Miscellaneous Services: Bonus $1,800.

It has been found that in about ninety cases employees of Government drawing not more than $25 per mensem (i.e. of the coolie or labouring classes) have received no increase in wages under the salaries revision, the chief reason being the limitation of increments to four only attainable in 12 years but not subject to increase on further service as was the case prior to the revision. This limitation of prospects affecting this class of employee generally will however be more than compensated by the bonus which will be payable under the revision at Chinese New Year and it is proposed to make good the immediate hardship in the 90 cases mentioned above by the grant of the bonus (i.e. a month's salary) in respect of the 1930 New Year. The amount required being estimated at $1,800.

Calves For Lambs.

Medical Department: Animals and Poultry $2,000.

More calves have resulted during October, November and December.

International Hygiene Office Miscellaneous Services: Public Health $16,745.87.

This vote is requested to meet the conditions of the 1930 International Hygiene Conference.

Police Force: Miscellaneous Services $1,000.

Owing to the lower rates of pay of the police force under provisions for the 1930 International Conference.

Officers and Sisters taking post graduate courses being larger than was anticipated. The Crown Agents account up to the end of July already amount to $5,440.94 and it is estimated that a further sum of $2,000 will be required to meet payments till the end of the current year. A supplementary vote for this amount is therefore asked for. The above is to be met from savings under provisions for patients.

Lorry Crash Recalled.

Public Works Department, Other Charges, Incidents: Compensation for damage caused by Lorry collision $6,156.

An accident occurred in Queen's Road Central on February 9 last as a result of which a F.W.D. lorry collided with a Verandah pillar of No. 74 Queen's Road causing damage to the premises, and occupiers' goods and chattels. Various claims were received which were investigated and in some cases allowed. Finance Committee approved an Advance Warrant in May last to meet certain payments. It is not anticipated that any further expenditure will be required in this matter and a Vote as above is requested to close the account.

Kowloon Tong.

Miscellaneous Services: Kowloon Tong Building Scheme, Government Contribution $105,000.

The agreement for the taking up and development of an area at Kowloon Tong, giving effect to the Garage City scheme prepared by the late Mr. C. Montague Ede, provided for the carrying out by the Government of certain formation and other works, and for the payment of premium for the lots comprised in the scheme-area, and for the grant of Crown leases to the subscribers to the scheme who duly paid their proportions of the development cost and the premium.

Owing to difficulties, many of which could not have been foreseen, encountered both by the Government and the Company which undertook the development on a non-profit making basis, there were delays and increases of cost. Disputes arose between the Company and the Government, and between the subscribers and the Company as to the increased cost of development. In order to dispose finally of such disputes and to close the subscribers' accounts relating to the completed scheme, it is intended, with the approval of the Secretary of State, to contribute towards an 80 per cent but final settlement, the sum of $105,000 or half the total amount required.

The amount of such contribution is slightly less than one-fourth of the premium. A supplementary vote of $105,000 is therefore requested.

Typhoon Damage.

Public Works Recurrent: Kowloon, Typhoon and Rainstorm Damages $5,500.

To meet cost of making good typhoon and rainstorm damage estimated cost of damage to date $14,500. Allow for contingencies $1,000. Total $16,500. Deduct amount voted in estimates $10,000. Amount asked for $5,500.

Fire Fighting.

Public Works Extraordinary:

Hong Kong Miscellaneous: Victoria Gap, Fire Fighting Appliances $3,200.

The Merryweather Stationary Motor driven rotary pressure pump.

Definite Advance toward Normality.

London, Yesterday.

The Government of India's appreciation of the situation in internal India states that the Bengal report for the first half of October records a definite advance towards normal conditions, and in the Presidency division picketing is reported to have practically stopped.

The situation in the rural areas has improved throughout the province. The Bengal report continues the strongly downward tendency in the number of prosecutions. Unless there is a reasonable ground for the hope that this tendency will now become more pronounced in view of the provinces' British Wireless Service.

Railway Votes.

Kowloon Canton Railway: Spec ial Expenditure, Storm Damage August and September, 1930, $5,130.

Owing to continuous heavy rains in August this year, slips developed on a high single width embankment at Mile 6 near Shatin, one at Tai Po and one in Cutting No. 1. The cost of these repairs is $2,880.54. Further damage to Cutting No. 1 and other points along the line caused by heavy and continuous rain in September, have to be repaired. Estimated cost being $2,745.87. As a 50% provision was made in the current estimates for this expenditure, a supplementary vote for $5,130 is now required.

The above is to be met from savings under Special Expenditure: New Passenger Coaches.

International Hygiene.

Miscellaneous Services: Office International Hygiene: Public Health $16,745.87.

This vote is requested to meet the conditions of the 1930 International Hygiene Conference.

Police Force: Miscellaneous Services $1,000.

Owing to the lower rates of pay of the police force under provisions for the 1930 International Conference.

BREWERS SUED.

Beilla, Sept. 23.

Pilsen, from where the best known beer in the world comes, is since the change in the face of Europe made by the peace treaties, situated in Czechoslovakia. But Germany has not in the least lost its taste for Pilsener beer on that account. Its additional cost has been a handicap to its consumption, however, and since the end of the war many German breweries have started to manufacture beer on the Pilsener type. At least half a dozen of the largest German breweries now in fact make their own Pilsener beer and German Pilsener is to be had everywhere in Germany cheaper than the genuine article from Czechoslovakia, though it should be added that the substitute article is not quite so good as the original.

Injunction Asked.

Czechoslovakia now objects to German beers bearing the name Pilsen and the brewers of the original beer in Pilsen intend to obtain an injunction forbidding German brewers to use the word Pilsen in designating their beer. The German brewers state, for their part, that the world Pilsen designates a type of beer, that it is not intended to mislead the public into thinking that their beer comes from Pilsen, Czechoslovakia, and that its use therefore cannot be regarded as in unfair method of competition with the Czech brewers. On behalf of the brewers it is further stated that the Czechs have nothing to complain about in any case since the annual imports of genuine Pilsener beer from Czechoslovakia have been steadily growing since 1924, when they were 134,597 hectolitres, until they have now reached 200,000. In any case they say their use of the word Pilsen in a descriptive sense has been recognized by the German courts.

Interesting Case Recalled.

The protests of the brewers of original Pilsen recall an interesting case of the same nature in England some years ago when the French sardine fishing industry protested against the description "sardines" being given to the products of a British firm of canners whose fish were not caught in the recognized sardine fisheries. The trade interests of genuine sardines then won their case and the British firm was prevented from calling its products "sardines".

Objections were successfully raised by Portugal which was opposed to the term "port" being used to describe wines grown in the British empire of a type similar to genuine Portuguese port wines.

In England the word "port" can only be used for wines grown in the Douro district of Portugal whence this popular drink emanated.

VOLUNTEER CORPS.

ANNUAL DINNER OF MACHINE GUN COMPANY.

FULL DRESS PARADE.

The annual dinner of the Machine Gun Company, of the Volunteer Defence Corps, which was held at Volunteer Headquarters last night, was attended by a large number, including Major H. E. Dowbiggin (acting Commandant), Captain W. H. G. Grater, M.C. D.S.O. (Adjutant), Captain E. J. R. Mitchell (O/C M.G. Company) and many other officers of the Corps and regiments.

Prior to the banquet, full dress parade, was held, during which H. E. the Governor (Sir William Peel, K.B.E.), attended by his A.D.C., paid an unofficial surprise visit. There were 80 men on parade, and they made a very smart turnout.

Gunner Still Keen.

At the dinner Capt. Mitchell, in proposing the toast of The Guests, reviewed the activities of the Machine Gun Company, and said that, although they did not capture as many trophies as last year, the men were still as keen as ever.

There had been a keen interest in recruiting, but the Company had made great strides during the year.

The Portuguese Company had taken the Athletic Cup, and M. G. Cup.

Attendance At Classes.

Major Dowbiggin, in rising to speak on behalf of the guests, said that he had two points about the Machine Gun Company that he wanted to bring forward.

keenness of the Company as a whole, and the second was the keenness of the men who were in the Company.

CHAMPIONS FROM HAWAII.Success Against U.S.A. and Japan.

GOOD RECORDS:

Aloha! This Hawaiian greeting of welcome and affection is the first word on the programme of a three-days' gala recently held in the 100ds. enclosed bath at Waikiki Beach, Honolulu, when Yale (the inter-collegiate champions of America) met the Meiji University of Japan and the Hui Makani Club of Hawaii in a triangular match.

After studying the times returned in the forty events decided over the three days the Sandwich Islanders' friendly greeting may be taken as a warning that the East will put up a successful challenge to the West when the twain meet at the next Olympiad. Obviously one cannot discuss in detail every performance of note or promise.

The Hawaiians took the honours in the three-cornered fixture, while Yale and Meiji drew for second place, and the individual honours went to an eighteen-year-old Hawaiian, Maiola Kalili. His latest exploits prove beyond doubt that he is the greatest all-round swimmer of all time. He is a Robot!

In three consecutive days' racing Kalili took part in eight gruelling contests, winning three, helping to win two, and finishing second in the others. He did the 400 metres in 4 min. 54.4-sec., 800 metres in 10 min. 164.5sec., 1,000 metres in 20 min. 20sec., 200 metres backstroke in 2 min. 39.4-sec., 400 metres backstroke in 5 min. 43sec., and returned 4min. 1sec. for the 300 metres medley. Kalili, too, was a member of the Hui Makani team which broke the world's record for the 300 metres medley relay, and captured the 800 metres free-style relay in 5min. 29.2-sec., as against the Olympic record of 5min. 36.1-sec., established by America when they won the title at Amsterdam in 1928.

Maiola Kalili's records speak for themselves, but more remarkable still he has a brother, Manuelli, who is following in his footsteps. Manuelli swam second in the 200 metres free-style to the Japanese, Sato, in 2 min. 18.1-sec., and then went on better by winning a 100 metres free-style in 50.3-sec., a feat which brings him into line for the world's leadership.

Another twenty-year-old Hawaiian, "Buster" Crabbe, standing well over 6ft. in height, came next in order of merit by recording 10min. 122.5sec. for 800 metres and 20 min. 61-sec. for 1,500 metres. When Crabbe swam into third place behind Horng and Charlton in the final of the 1,500 metres at the last Olympic Games at Amsterdam, he was earmarked as a potential Olympic champion. He then recorded 20 min. 28.4-sec. in a 500 metres' bath, and an improvement of more than 20sec. over a slower course justifies this first impression.

Apart from the triangular contests, a number of boys' and girls' races were staged at Waikiki Beach, and the times as a whole were remarkably good. A twelve-year-old girl, Muriole Twist, returned 58 sec. for 50 metres free-style and 47sec. for 50 metres backstroke, while a twelve-year-old boy, K. Imori, did 32sec. for 50yds. free-style. However, Hawaii's best junior is a fifteen-year-old girl, Olga Clark, who won a 100 metres free-style race over 50 sec. faster than in 1928.

On this form Olga Clark is a certainty to be the second fastest swimmer in the world.

The Olympic champion, Y. Taurita, swimming for Meiji, took the 200 metres' breast-stroke in 2 min. 56sec., but he suffered a surprising defeat in the 400 metres' breaststroke, which was won by M. Minard (Yale), who set up the fast performance of 6 min. 22.8sec.

The meeting between Yale and Meiji was arranged by the express invitation of Mr. C. Dudley Pratt, an old Yale graduate who is now the President of the Hawaiian Swimming Association, and Mr. Pratt has certainly rendered great service to national sport by his untiring efforts.

C. H. Holmes (Jamaica) is a lifeguard who always shows form without being arrogant. His bathe-ing is superb, and his defence and attack are excellent against the opposition.

H. C. Grimes (Barbados) is a good fast bowler, with a great command of length. In the tests against the M.C.C. he took 16 wickets at 31.7, while in the English tour he secured 108 at 23.6.

G. Headley (Jamaica) has the reputation of being the finest batsman in the West Indies. His record in the test games versus the

M.C.C. was splendid, as he scored 700 runs with an average of 57.6, and a highest score of 221. He has fine strokes, all round, the wicket, with smart footwork and a strong defence.

"A BAD HAT."

ATTEMPT TO STEAL HAT IN KOWLOON.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

At the Kowloon Magistracy today, a Chinese was charged with attempting to steal a hat from 1, King's Terrace, Kowloon.

The complainant in the case was Mr. David Gabrullar, who stated that he occupied the ground and first floors of the house. He had lost two hats and a suitcase during the past month, and watch kept by him proved fruitless until Monday afternoon. Then he saw the accused enter the doorway of the house, and, as he was a stranger, he asked what he wanted.

The accused replied that he was looking for the "boy" employed on the top floor, but instead, went away and Mr. Gabrullar proceeded to the first floor. About half an hour later, Mr. Gabrullar returned to the ground floor by way of the kitchen and found the accused inside in the act of taking a hat from the hatstand.

20 Minutes' Chase. When accused saw Mr. Gabrullar he bolted and was chased. After a run which lasted 20 minutes Mr. Gabrullar caught accused in an alleyway in Yaumao and handed him over to the Police.

Accused's story was that he was looking for a man named Ah Fook to whom he had supplied flowers for some time on credit and he wanted to collect the money due to him. Ah Fook had told him that he worked in one of the houses in King's Terrace and, therefore accused had to make a house to house search for the man. He was engaged in his hunt for Ah Fook when Mr. Gabrullar misunderstood his motive and made trouble for him.

Mr. Butters remarked that accused's story was ridiculous and convicted.

Detective-Sergeant Fitches then produced the accused's "record" which showed that he had been convicted four times for larceny.

In view of the fact that accused was an old offender the Magistrate passed sentence of three months' hard labour.

U.S. FRIENDSHIP.

American's Address To Rotarians.

Speaking at the Colwyn Bay Rotary Club luncheon, Dr. D. Hugh Jones, Presbyterian minister, of Evanston, Illinois, U.S.A., said nothing made him more sad than to hear on this side of the Atlantic expressions of bad feeling towards the United States. He was one out of ten million Anglo-Saxons who inhabited the Middle West—people who were virtually the same as the people of Great Britain holding similar views, striving for the same ideals, and faced with problems very much alike.

"When you are told by irresponsible people that there is real animosity between the peoples of Britain and the United States, believe me when I tell you that there is very little in it. We have in the States a thousand different elements entering into our body politic and citizenship, but before forming an opinion of us you ought to remember that we have amongst us countless people of your own blood who are called Americans, but are really not so in the true sense of the world. When you meet an American of the Anglo-Saxon breeding and background, turn him by the hand, for you can rely upon finding in him a true friend."

Continuing, Dr. Jones said: "I think Great Britain and the United States are fated to have the future of the world in their bands; we shall, I think, stand or fall together. Therefore, it is of the utmost importance that the spirit of friendship and understanding should be cultivated between the two peoples."

ARSON TRIAL.

FURTHER INSURANCE POLICY DISCOVERED.

Further evidence was taken yesterday in the alleged "arson plot," which involves Li Pui-sing, master of a medicine-shop at 77, Wing Lok Street, and three others.

Mr. Somerset Fitzroy informed His Worship (Mr. R. E. Lindsell) that it had just been discovered that a further $11,000 insurance had been taken out by first defendant, making a total of $31,000.

Li Pak-chung, a shipping agent, gave evidence as to being asked for a loan of $10,000, the security being a mortgage on the s.s. Wu San, stated to be owned by first defendant.

Further evidence was to the effect that first defendant had discussed the question of arson with another witness.

Witness having been brought to identify first defendant as the man who rented the premises at 77, Wing Lok Street, the case was adjourned until to-morrow.

AMERICAN TOURISTS.

Marked Falling Off In Europe This Summer.

For every one hundred Americans who travelled first or second class to Europe last summer, there were only 82 this year.

The decrease is due to business depression, but this has not affected third class travel, which has risen. Steamship sailings from Europe to the United States are down 20 per cent. this season, the chief reason being financial losses suffered by American shipping abroad.

The Farm's Charity Ball is the third dance in Lincolnshire which has been suspended this season owing to trade depression.

morning's shooting, outrage, when police Sergeant Taylor and his wife were shot and injured, have resulted in the arrest of 12 youths, none of whom are above 20 years of age.

The majority of them are connected with the Swatantra Bharat Sabha (Independent India League)
recently started in Bombay.

The Police also seized a motor-car in the suburbs, in which a number of cartridges was found.

[A later message states:—The police searched last night several houses in connection with the shooting.

Six more arrests bring the total to 18, including three Government employees and the owner of the assailants' car, Mr. Shankar Shinde, a landlord in Andheri, a suburb of Bombay.

The car, the final digit of whose number was obliterated at the time of the outrage to evade detection, has been taken possession of by the police.

Police-Sergeant Taylor and his wife were fired at in the early hours of the morning as they were going home after a drive. Both were injured and removed to hospital.

Fifteen Shots.

With a friend, Mr. King, and his wife, the Taylors were alighting from the car at Police quarters,
Lamington Road, when Sergeant
Taylor observed a short distance away another car with three passengers, who are believed to have fired 15 shots in quick succession, one hitting Taylor's hand and another Mrs. Taylor's thigh.

The assailants' car dashed off.
Mr. King attempted to pursue them but found that the tire of Sergeant Taylor's car had been punctured by a bullet.

Another car passing by attempted to chase the assailants, who, however, escaped.

The injuries to Sergeant Taylor and his wife are not serious, although Mrs. Taylor was hit thrice in the legs.

It transpires that Sergeant Taylor with his wife and Mr. King had left the car and were entering the police station, when the shots were fired.

He hurried the ladies to the rear of the car for protection, after which Mrs. Taylor was wounded.

Taylor's shouts brought other officers to the scene. Meanwhile, that insect jumped on him—the
"Duce," explained the workman.

"It sat on his shoulder, and I asked permission to catch it and keep it as a souvenir."

"These words, 'It was on the Duke's shoulder,'" wrote the journalist, "were pronounced in a voice shaken by emotion and resonant with affection."

Further Powers For Authorities.

Singapore, October 10.

Named "The Unlawful Association Ordinance," the Viceroy has promulgated a ninth ordinance, to enable local Governments to take effective measures for the occupation of immovable property and for the forfeiture of movable property used for the purpose of any association declared to be unlawful.

The Viceroy's explanatory statement refers to the grave injury caused in India by Congress, who not only rejected the path of constitutional representation, but declared their intention to cause still greater damage and suffering to the public.

Government therefore requires further powers to check the activities of unlawful organisations.

The Viceroy says it has been represented to him that the Criminal Law Amendment Act powers are defective, as they do not grant authority to take possession of property used for the purpose of an unlawful association.

"In these circumstances," thought it right to promulgate an Ordinance to enable local governments to take effective measures for the occupation of immovable property and the forfeiture of movable property used for the purpose of an unlawful association."

"Greatly Deplored."

The Viceroy instructed local Governments first, to grant as a matter of grace, reasonable compensation to a person who suffered loss from the occupation and forfeiture of his property, and who had not given direct or indirect support to the movement wherewith the unlawful association was connected; and secondly, to return to the third party property occupied, if attached to the premises used for the purpose of an unlawful association.

"In the case of such attachment, the Government does not request that it be retained with the property, but it is retained with the property until the compensation is paid."

"The compensation will be fixed by the Government, and will be paid to the person who suffered loss from the occupation and forfeiture of his property."

MILLE ARMENTIERES

DEATH OF FAMOUS WAR CHARACTER
Paris, Sept. 10.
The original Madame from Armentières is dead.
She was Mme. Laure Villanquet, a woman found dead at Le Châtelier, a small town in the south of France. She had been married to a man named Georges Villanquet, who was a member of the French Foreign Legion. He had been killed in the First World War. Mme. Villanquet was a widow and had no children. She had been living alone in a small house in Le Châtelier for many years. She had been suffering from a long illness and had been bedridden for several months. She had been found dead in her bed on September 10th.

MUSIC • DRAMA • FILMSROUND THE CINEMAS*"MONTANA NOON" TALKIE WELL RECEIVED.*JOAN CRAWFORD'S ROLE.

Joan Crawford does her best bit of acting to date in "Montana Moon," her new musical Western offering which is showing at the Queen's Theatre. Seen as the daughter of a millionaire ranch owner, who is visiting her father's properties in Montana with a group of Eastern friends, and falls in love with a cowboy who is obviously out of place in her sophisticated circles, Miss Crawford gives an inspired performance in a picture which for plot interest, expert direction and sterling acting may be placed well up on the list of best pictures of 1930.

This film is bound to appeal to everybody. The men will get a kick out of the cowboy exploits, the roping of steers, the cow-puncher slang, etc.; the women will be interested in the variety of smart clothes worn by the star and other feminine members of the cast; while every one will be enthused over the spectacular setting in which the picture is laid, the scenes of the wide valleys, the ravines and precipices and the huge mountains in the background being among the finest ever captured by the camera. Furthermore, the film is permeated with a number of intriguing songs and lyrics, among which are "Happy Cowboy," "The Moon Is Low," and "Trailin' in Old Montana."

Miss Crawford's performance is well supported by the other members of the cast, John Mack Brown making an appealing cowpuncher, Ricardo Cortez, long absent from the screen, making his return in this picture as the villain, Dorothy Sebastian scoring in a sister role; Lloyd Ingraham, as the heroine's father, while ample comedy is afforded by a laugh-trio composed of Karl Dane, Cliff Edwards and Benny Rubin.

"THE BISHOP MURDER CASE."

Roland Young, one of the cleverest comedians to come talking pictures from the stage, scored an instant success in his first film, "Unholy Night." Born in London, and educated there at the University College, he went to America a number of years ago and scored big hits in "Buddies," "Rollo's Wild Oats," "The Devil's Disciples," "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney" and "The Queen's Husband." His distinctively "yodle" type of humour fits splendidly such parts as that of Arnesson, the much-suspected young scientist in "The Bishop Murder Case."

This new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer all-talkie mystery will be shown at the Queen's Theatre to-morrow.

"REDSKIN."

The work of feeding 100 people engaged in filming the Richard Dix latest starring picture, "Redskin," in and around the great Canyon de Chelly in north-eastern Arizona, was increased manifold by the comparative inaccessibility of the Paramount location camp. The camp was established at the Chin Lee trading post, one hundred miles from Gallup, New Mexico, the nearest railway point. All the supplies were sent in by truck over roads that most of the way were but two ruts through the sand of an open desert. The last twenty-five miles of the drive were over natural table rock that ascended and descended through forests of pine and juniper like a staircase.

During their stay in London the members of the choir are in the care of Mr. James Stewart, who has spent nearly 40 years in Government service in South Africa, where he has also been a magistrate.

The Government only gave permission for the Zulus to come to this country on the distinct understanding that there should be a person responsible for their welfare.

ZULU SINGERS.MAKING RECORDS IN ENGLAND.

Hayes, Middlesex, Sept. 15.

Mr. Ruben Calusa, a Zulu with flashing eyes and a smile which never seems to leave his face, turned from the microphone in the studio where he has been making gramophone records, and remarked to me: "Everything is wonderful in England, but how I should like a real calabash of nourishing sour milk," writes an Evening News correspondent.

Mr. Calusa is the leader of a choir of 10 Zulus, who have come over from South Africa, to make a series of records of native songs and music.

Soon the records, which I saw being made to-day, will be heard in native kraals in Zululand.

These Zulus, all of whom can speak English, are enjoying their first trip to England.

There are five Zulu girls in the choir, most of them teachers in tiny schools in South Africa.

A Very Old Song.

One record I heard made to-day was a Zulu folk song of which nobody knows the origin.

It was sung in the kraals long before the face of a white man had been seen.

All the records are in the Zulu tongue.

"We are happy people," said Mr. Calusa, "and I hope that many of the records will bring about much laughter in the kraals.

Zulus are fond of the gramophone, and you will find these instruments in many remote parts of the country. In fact, I don't know how they got there.

"I am told that in London when you want to know the way you ask a policeman. In South Africa, whenever I wanted to trace some police officer, I would ask our Zulu policeman.

Great Singers.

"The Zulu policemen are great singers and they would chant to me some of the songs which have been handed down from generation to generation.

"We are now making permanent records of these."

Mr. Calusa is a remarkable Zulu. His English is perfect, and his knowledge of music extensive.

"I think," he said, "that I must have been born with music in me, because I have never had a lesson. My father taught me a very old portable organ, on which I played in the village. Immediately we have finished making these records we are returning to South Africa." The Zulu girls are intrigued by London fashions, and they are thrilled by the idea of taking back some very smart frocks with them.

Clapping and Stamping.

Mr. Calusa told me that when the records are played in Zulu kraals the native will provide the accompaniment by the clapping of hands and the stamping of feet.

During their stay in London the members of the choir are in the care of Mr. James Stewart, who has spent nearly 40 years in Government service in South Africa, where he has also been a magistrate.

The Government only gave permission for the Zulus to come to this country on the distinct understanding that there should be a person responsible for their welfare.

TELETALKIE.LONDON SEES A REMARKABLE EXPERIMENT.

At the Coliseum Theatre in London recently, a television talkie film, transmitted by Baird apparatus, was shown.

The talkie, taken in the Baird studio, was an address by Sidney A. Mosley and the following day Mr. Mosley was a silent spectator on the stage while the audience saw and heard him making the speech.

Admittedly experimental, it is hoped that this may be the forerunner of the day when several cinemas will simultaneously receive the same televised talkie scene from the main studio.

demonstrating the success of the recently established Pathé dramatic school which Frank Reicher conducted. Many of the youthful stock players under contract to Pathé under the title "The Sophomore," with Eddie Gillian in the leading role, and is now being shown at the Majestic Theatre, Kowloon. The show is said to be the youth of to-day.

Sally O'Neill, petite star of many successful screen productions, will be seen in the talkie lead opposite Eddie Gillian in "Love, Love, Love." The picture is a remake of "Love, Love, Love," and Eddie Gillian is the young man who has won the heart of Sally O'Neill.

The picture is a remake of the original production, which was a tremendous success.

A GALSWORTHY TALKIE.Sir Gerald Du Maurier in "Escape."

At last American cinemagoers, from east to west across the great continent, are to see a true film of British and British life.

This is Mr. Basil Dean's talkie of John Galsworthy's play "Escape," with Sir Gerald Du Maurier in the leading part. The picture has been made by arrangement with the powerful R.K.O. film concern of America, which lent technicians, put up about half the cost and guaranteed that the film would be shown in its big circuit of American cinemas.

There is no precedent for this friendly gesture towards a British film.

Real Devonshire.

"Escape" was made in the studio at Beaconsfield and on Dartmoor. Most of its backgrounds are the real thing in Devonshire. It has the most effective British setting of any film, and the mannerisms of the players are more peculiarly British than any producer has dared to film before.

What will America think of these quixotic British women who so readily help an escaped convict to freedom? And of the gentleman-murderer with his "It is frightfully decent of you" and "You are terribly kind."

Even British audiences outside the West End may be tempted into a laugh when a woman offers the escaping man tea in her own drawing room and he replies "It is too good for you."

A Brilliant Cast.

The sincerity and originality of this picture are also its weaknesses. There is a subtlety about its commentary on British "sportiness" which may be missed by audiences nourished for ten years on the underlined American film.

Sir Gerald, whose first talkie this is, is in the limelight the whole time, but he has a good deal to learn about film acting.

He is supported by one of the most brilliant casts ever put into a British film—Edna Best, Mabel Poulton, Madeleine Carroll, Marie Vey, Jean Coole, Ann Casson, Gordon Harker, Horace Hodges, Felix Aylmer, Lewis Casson, and a host of well-known people playing just "walking-on" parts.

Clapping and Stamping.

Mr. Calusa told me that when the records are played in Zulu kraals the native will provide the accompaniment by the clapping of hands and the stamping of feet.

S. GEORGE'S CHAPEL.

REOPENING OF HISTORIC CHURCH AT WINDSOR.

ROYAL FAMILY PRESENT.

Rugby, Yesterday. The King and Queen, the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York, Prince George and Prince Arthur of Connaught were present to-day at a thanksgiving service to commemorate the re-opening of St. George's Chapel, Windsor, which has just been restored to its original splendour. Edward III, nearly 600 years ago, gave the Chapel to the Knights of the Garter, and many others of the Order were present to-day. Almost all the Royal families of the world were present in person or represented. Among the assembly were also the representatives of various bodies of workers engaged in the restoration of the fabric.—British Wireless Service.

GOLD SUPPLIES.

INSUFFICIENT TO MEET WORLD REQUIREMENTS?

MEASURES BY THE LEAGUE.

London, Yesterday. In the House of Commons at question time, Mr. Philip Snowden stated that he had received the interim report of the gold delegation financial committee of the League of Nations, dealing with possibility that future supplies of new gold might be inadequate to meet world requirements. The measures it suggested to meet such an eventuality were international in scope. Moreover, the delegation had not yet completed its investigation and no action would be taken until its next report, which it is understood, will be in the nature of recommendations.—Reuters.

NEW 20-CENT COINS.

TO BE ISSUED IN CANTON
SHORTLY.

Canton, Yesterday. The Canton Mint has completed the new 20-cent die of the 19th Year of the Chinese Republic, which will be put into operation before long. It is understood, that since the resumption of the mint, a large quantity of silver bar has been purchased, which can meet with the demand of the daily output, without utilising the conversion of old coins, as the practice formerly adopted.—Canton News Agency.

A Gentle Fall.

London, Yesterday. At the resumption of the R.101 enquiry to-day Dr. Hope Simpson, in his evidence, said that the meteorological conditions were very carefully worked out for the flight. There was nothing about the weather experienced by the R.101 on her flight to India that need have worried the navigators.

There might have been an error of 75 feet in the altimeter reading, but the greatest possible error was 168 feet.

Witness quoted a letter from Dr. Eckener, expressing the opinion that an error in the altimeter was most probable.

Dr. Hope Simpson said that the dipping of the airship at the time of the Hendon trial flights was due to the instability of the atmosphere.

Prior to the India flight the airship had experienced no

R.101 DISASTER NOT DUE TO BE WEATHER.

Opinion That Airship Fell to Ground Gently.

CAUSE OF DIPPING.

Rugby, Yesterday. Evidence of the survivors of the French witnesses, one of whom witnessed the disaster, has been completed and the Court of Inquiry into the loss of the airship to-day heard evidence concerning the weather conditions at the time. This was given by officials of the Air Ministry Meteorology Department.

Sir John Simon, President of the Court, said that their evidence showed that very careful arrangements were made on ground and on the ship to learn the probable meteorological conditions. Whether or not it was good flying weather in which to start for India was quite another question.

Dr. Simpson, Director of Meteorology at the Air Ministry, said that the R.101 was warned that she would be likely to meet high winds, and rain over northern France. But the weather conditions on the night of the flight were nothing to cause the navigators' anxiety. Dr. Simpson expressed the view that the rain did not affect the navigation of the ship and was not an important factor in the final catastrophe. The airship would have had far worse weather for hours after the time of the disaster.—British Wireless Service.

A WEEK'S DISEASE.

During the week ended November 1 the following cases of disease were notified to the Medical Officer of Health:

Cases Deaths

Diphtheria 1 -

Enteric fever 5 3

Cerebro-spinal fever 1 1

Influenza 1 -

One of the enteric fever cases was imported.

On November 3 two cases of typhoid fever and one case of diphtheria were notified.

wind over 15 miles an hour. She experienced no stabler weather, but not such gusty weather.

Major Cooper, of the Air Ministry, said that he was very impressed by the fact that very few trees were broken by the fall of the airship at Beauvais, indicating that the fall was very gentle.

There was no mechanical defect in the elevators or their control levers.

The hearing was again adjusted.—Reuters.
